

Clara the cartoon girl

Clara was a cartoon girl and like many young cartoon girls she was just an outline, as she had never been colored-in.

Clara's father didn't want her to be, her mother said that it was wrong, and Clara... well she was just waiting for the right time.

Some of Clara's friends had been colored-in, some of them by two or more other cartoons at the same time. A lot of those friends had later regretted it as they ended up being covered in strange polka dots.

Many other cartoons had tried to color-in Clara, but she had never let them.

One day her boyfriend said to her "If you really appreciated my creativity, you would let me color you."

Clara felt confused, she knew that if she didn't let her boyfriend color her that she would eventually lose him.

That night Clara's boyfriend colored her, using various techniques, until he was too exhausted to color her anymore.

When Clara's boyfriend woke the next day, he saw Clara completely different, and now that he had colored her he no-longer found her attractive.

Clara was hurt and cried.

From this time on Clara only ever ate pussy.
